This research paper that I dedicate to:

My beloved parents, Mr Sukahar and Mrs Puji Ismantari.

This work is a little effort that makes me happy because I have been able to complete this education well, a form of gratitude for the amount of love, affection, attention, enthusiasm, support, struggle and others. Forms of love that are always given without ever being asked. Although everything will never be enough to make all the services and love paid in full, hopefully, this work can be a witness to tirelessness and love that never stops. Hopefully, this work can be one of the first steps to a bright future so that I can realize one by one the hopes that have been entrusted to me. Thank you for all the love that never ends.
